Building Stuff

There is a props organization scheduled for June 18th at 10am. Duane Draper will be in attendance and potentially Sarah Karlen.

New Business/Upcoming Shows

Rehearsals for Sweeney Todd began three weeks ago. Blocking rehearsals begin tomorrow. Things are going according to schedule. Sandy will be meeting with Nate Mendl to set up when tickets will be on sale on June 26th. Sweeney Todd will be participating in Oregon's Summerfest Parade. We will be using the OSHP banner for the parade.

The board procedure documents that the current board members have created have been compiled into a file on the OSHP Google account. Helena will be including the Instagram account information in the document about Newsletter Responsibilities. In Membership Responsibilities, whomever is leading that task is responsible for updating past and present members in the database. Stephanie will be searching for the rubric that is used to appoint scholarships and will add it to the Scholarships document.

Stephanie will be including a tidbit in the next newsletter asking members to reach out if the companies/businesses/corporations that they work for either participate in giving out grants or have a "match for match" opportunity. Mark Wegner did some research on grants available to help give a better idea on what kind of information we would need to start applying for grants.

Q, while working on content for the 40th anniversary, suggested another meeting for all members to discuss what OSHP would like to accomplish by our 50th anniversary.

40th Anniversary Celebration

Nick Kapusta is the tech director for the anniversary celebration.

Q is working on a full timeline of OSHP history. She is working with previous members to help piece together the shows and memories together throughout the decades. She has pulled a program from each show OSHP has done that we had kept over the years. Q is also working on getting multimedia from John Unertl to put together in the slideshow. She wants to create a vinyl timeline banner for us to use not only for the anniversary celebration but also for future use.

Mark Wegner is going to toy around with creating a song for publicity for the anniversary celebration.

The next meeting will be on Monday July 25th via Zoomvat 7pm. Meeting was adjourned at 8:03pm.
